

Cryptocurrency Debit Cards: The Moment of Truth

Let's make a list to survive through the day.

Car keys - check

Laptop - check

Wallet - check

Debit cards - check

The list ends with debit cards. Why? Because the ease of swiping your card for every single purchase without having the hassle to look for change is second to none. Our reliance on debit cards can be judged by the fact that the total value of Mastercard debit card transactions in 2017 was a whopping $201 billion. The number of debit card users have been increasing substantially. As a cryptocurrency user, it's even better if you can use your cryptocurrencies to buy those fancy Gucci bags. If you're facing problems with cryptocurrency debit cards, we have good news! Read on to know more.
